

Resurgence'91:India LPG revolution Documentary project

In "Resurgence '91," the students created documentaries tracing India's 1991 crisis and the LPG policy's formulation, blending historical depth with multimedia storytelling to illuminate India's economic transformation. All the houses distinguished themselves with their outstanding performance. The main aim of this activity was to raise awareness about the pivotal LPG revolution that began in 1991 in India and its profound impacts on public health, the environment, and the economy. All the houses aimed to educate the audience on the historical context, the key players, and the outcomes of this significant transformation. The students were judged on the basis of their The students will be judged on the basis of their research work,presentation,creativity and originality.

Dr.Sachin Sethi a scientist by profession and a parent body came to judge the event.

Results

First position – Wisdom House

Second position –Faith House

Third Position – Justice House

Fourth Position – Honour House

