

SESSION – 2024 -25

Date	Description
11th November	EMOTION CHARADES
	Students were assigned specific emoji on slips and asked them to choose the emoji from the basket. Common choices include happy faces, hearts, thumbs-up, or more complex emotions like those showing anger, surprise, or confusion. Students take turns acting out their emoji, using their facial expressions, gestures, and body movements to embody the symbol. They are encouraged to exaggerate their movements to make the interpretation clear to their peers. reflection of the students' and understanding of both nonverbal communications developed the skill that benefits both personal and academic growth and also helped them to understand different emotional states and reactions Enacting emoji is a fun, interactive, and educational way to help students develop their emotional, social, and communication skills. By exploring how digital symbols can translate into real-life expressions, students gain a deeper appreciation for the power of nonverbal communication and emotional expression in both digital and physical spaces.
